WHY WEAK NERVES
AND THIN WATERY BLOOD

CAUSE SUCH GREAT PHYSICAL WEAKNESS AND MAKE ONE AN EASY PREY TO A MULTITUDE OF DANGEROUS DISEASES.

Every human being is born with a certain quantity of "nerve force" and some with more than others.

Your body normally makes or generates nerve force only about so fast, and if through overwork, worry, constant nervous strain or other excesses, you use up your nerve force faster than your body makes new nerve force, then your nerve power becomes weakened, and as a consequence your blood may become thin, pale, and watery, and you become feeble, cross, and irritable. In such a state you may not only suffer terrible tortures from a multitude of alarming symptoms, but in an easy prey for the multitude of dangerous germs with which you must come in almost daily contact, and you may therefore easily contract some dangerous or even fatal disease.

In such cases you should immediately take something to revitalize your worn-out, exhausted nerves and create new nerve force. This is most effectively accomplished by the free use of Nuxated Iron. This valuable product quickly aids in enriching the blood and thereby helps it to furnish an additional supply of new nerve force with which to revitalize and regenerate the brain and nerve cells. It also contains a product which represents the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force in a form most nearly allied to that in the nerve and brain cells of man. Nuxated Iron may therefore be said to be both a blood and a nerve food as it furnishes strength-giving organic iron to the blood and the most important element of the nerve-vital fluid to the nerves. The effect of Nuxated Iron in cases of exhausted nerve force and impoverished blood is so remarkable and surprising that it often increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, "run-down" men and women in two weeks' time. In fact, the manufacturers guarantee satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. Nuxated Iron is for sale by all druggists.

VAST NUMBERS

Nearly 75 Per Cent of Newly Admitted Immigrants Are Untrained, Census Reveals.

By International News Service.
Approximately 75 per cent of the 805,228 immigrants admitted into the United States during the fiscal year ended June 30, last, were unskilled and were dependent upon their daily wage for a livelihood, according to figures made public today by the Bureau of Immigration of the Department of Labor. This number will be largely reduced during the present fiscal year under the operation of the 3 per cent immigration law.

The figures show that 301,141 immigrants, which included women and children, were listed without occupation, while 357,721 were listed under miscellaneous occupations, such as draymen, farm laborers, servants, fishermen, and laborers. Of the remainder of the immigrants, 14,592 were engaged in professional occupations and 131,774 in skilled occupations. Teachers led among those engaged in professional pursuits with 3,172, while professional engineers followed with 1,533, while electricians were third with 1,427. The clergy was close up, with 1,204, while 687 actors, 959 physicians, and 490 literary and scientific persons were admitted to these shores during the fiscal year to practice their professions. Miscellaneous professions accounted for 2,882 immigrants. During the fiscal year 247,718 emigrants left the country.

WHAT CAR IS THIS?
$250 IN REWARDS

My selection is.....

Do You Know This One?

Perhaps you already know what it is. There will be a good many lucky ones who will recognize this car easily from the true-to-life illustration. If you are not that lucky, think back a minute about the cars you do know and perhaps it will come to you—but if that does not work, go out on the street, or stand on the curb and look around you. You will be sure to see one of these cars in very short order. It might be the very first car that comes past you.

This is a well-known car—one of the thirty famous American makes shown in The Washington Times in the Automobile Title Contest.

There is no reason why you cannot name this car promptly, so write the name across this drawing as soon as you have figured it out—keep this illustration with the rest of the material in the contest thus far and at the end of thirty days send in your list for the thirty right names to the "Walk Right-Drive Right" Editor of The Washington Times, together with your fifty-word suggestion for the "Walk Right-Drive Right" movement.

What The Times is after, of course, is the suggestion you are to send along with the thirty names—a good and practical suggestion for making crossings and boulevards safer for driver and pedestrian.

There is no reason why this city should have such a high accident rate from the automobile, and we are sure that you have some idea of how to improve conditions. It may be just a simple suggestion on a new regulation for crossings, speeds, handling of downtown and other traffic—but no matter what your best thought is on improving traffic conditions, send it in, because you will have a mighty good chance of getting some of this $250 prize money to be awarded contestants by the judges of the contest.

You are going to have a lot of fun in finding out how many cars you know, and at the same time assisting in a genuine civic movement by helping to work out a good plan for cutting down the growing list of traffic accidents in Washington.

BABY BOY DIES
WHEN IODINE IS USED ON BODY

William Lanier Washington's
Child Badly Burned by Too
Free Application.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The death yesterday under remarkable circumstances of Winston Lanier Washington, seventeen months old, in a Richmond Hill nursery, revealed that the child's father was William Lanier Washington, of No. 105 East Nineteenth street, Manhattan.

William Lanier Washington, banker and chairman, is a direct lineal descendant of a brother of George Washington. He was divorced some time ago by the former May Bruce Brennan, a belle of Louisville, Ky. His present wife, mother of the child, was Miss Alice May Holland, of Baltimore. Dr. William H. Nammack, medical examiner in Queens county, received word yesterday that the child had died under circumstances that warranted investigation. The case was reported to him by Dr. Russell J. McGraw.

Died in Nursery.

In Dr. Nammack's office will be filed today a brief and formal report that the baby's death was in the nursery conducted at No. 655 Briggs avenue, Richmond Hill, by Mrs. Amelia B. Cohen, a registered nurse. This report will say that the boy died of:

"Shock due to burns of the body of the first degree caused by application to the body of tincture of iodine."

The medical examiner says that the baby, suffering from a skin disease, was painted from head to foot with a salve containing tincture of iodine, not even the little one's face escaping the searing fluid.

The Washington baby was attended by Drs. E. J. Cronin and Russell J. McGraw, both of Richmond Hill. The case was diagnosed as one of impetigo, a skin disease.

Mrs. Cohen was directed to touch (Dr. Nammack stressed the word as opposed to "paint") the spots that appeared on the little bodies with tincture of iodine.

Dr. Nammack last night said the Washington youngster's entire body was covered with a brown coating. Even the face was painted, he said.

Examiner Was Amazed.

Shortly before his death the boy passed into an agonized convulsion. Dr. McGraw was called, but nothing then could be done to save the writhing child.

The medical examiner said: "I was dumbfounded. The house is so unsanitary as to be an impossible habitation for adults, let alone infants."

Mrs. Cohen said that the Washington baby was brought to her home on September 23, 1920, and that she had received $16 a week for taking care of him. She added:

"My husband's insistence that she gave the youngster every possible care and that he was attended competently was corroborated by the child's parents last night in their beautiful furnished apartment. Both were reluctant to speak of the case. Their faces were graven with sorrow."

Mrs. Washington is little more than a girl. At most she is twenty-three. Her frame is slender and her stature medium. Her blue eyes are set in a charming face, framed in a luxurious abundance of golden hair.

Husband Much Older.

Her husband is many years her senior, as attested by the iron-gray hair and mustache. He said:

"Yes, we are the parents of that baby. It has been a terrible blow. For that matter, the last few years have been sad. Alice and I were married two years ago."

"I went out to that place in Richmond Hill, hoping mad for I was wrapped up in that boy of mine. Just wrapped up. He was my whole life. I was pretty hot when I got there. But I was convinced that the child received every possible care and was under competent nursing and that the conditions in the house were wholesome. I was convinced that death was inevitable and that all that could be done to save the baby's life was done."

STRICKEN WOMAN LIES

UNCONSCIOUS FOR WEEK

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Sept. 20.—Mrs. Anna M. Haley, sixty-five years, attacked by paralysis, was found Monday night in her home, 218 North New street, where she lived with Mrs. Ellis Jeffers, unconscious on the floor of her room and removed to a hospital in an extremely serious condition.

From indications the woman had been attacked by the trouble on Tuesday of last week and had been in the same position on the floor since that time. Mrs. Jeffers went on a visit that day, leaving Mrs. Haley in charge.

Neighbors noticed that milk left at the rear door had not been removed for several days and a window was forced.

GRIL, 17, WANTS "TO DIE
BUT NOT IMMEDIATELY"

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Sept. 20.—"I wanted to injure myself in such a way that I would be sure to die but yet not immediately," is an explanation reported today by officials of the Johnstown Memorial Hospital to have been given by Miss May Slagle, seventeen years old, who is in the hospital with both legs amputated near the knees. Miss Slagle, a daughter of Noah Slagle, of Bens Creek, was run over last Thursday by a trolley car. She is quoted as saying that while her desire to die has not changed, she wants the forgiveness of her parents. Doctors say the chances of her recovery are small.
